Privacy Policy

We, at CR Production Music.com fully understand and respect your online privacy. We have taken all the necessary steps to protect your personal information and ensure that your online security is not breached.

We would like to assure you that:

We never sell, share or rent our e-mail list. Your e-mail address is used exclusively by us to communicate with you when necessary (for example, if we experience a problem with your order) or if you have requested information.

The credit card information provided when you purchase a product from us is processed through a separate website that features state-of-the-art protection and encryption processing system. CR Production Music.com does not store your credit card information on our server.

We do not gather personal or individual information from visitors. However, we do gather general information. For example, we like to know which of our pages are visited most often, what kind of music is most popular, from which countries we get most visitors, what browser is most popular, etc. This information is anonymous and collected as the aggregation of all visitors together. This sort of information helps us to understand our customers' needs and serve them better.

When you become a member or purchase a product from us, you fill in a form with your address and e-mail in order to complete the transaction. We keep this information securely on file in case we need to communicate with you. But we do not share this information with anyone else.
